

WMF Logo

We are the Women's Missionary Federation, joined together across the United States through our Association of Free Lutheran Congregations (AFLC), and into other parts of the world through our Missionaries' work in various countries.

The branch signifies that we are a branch of the AFLC working alongside the various departments to share the gospel. (Mark 16:15) The letters are joined together to remind us that no matter where we are in this world, as women of the AFLC, we are together through Christ. The arch over the emblem reminds us that we serve under Christ, and we come under the AFLC to serve through the projects that we support.

At the local level, the individual churches can choose to use WMF as the name of their women's group(s) or they are free to choose another name. The District and National levels go by the Women's Missionary Federation (WMF). Thus, we have several designs for our logo that can be used. We have the logo with no wording, we have some designs that say Women's Missionary Federation, and some say Women of the AFLC. More logo designs are located in section VI. Other Resources in this manual. If you are looking to use any of them or want other designs, contact the Executive Secretary.
